

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – NEW COUNTRY SINGLE

Date: May 15, 2026

“OASIS” – A BOOT-STOMPIN’ COUNTRY ANTHEM CELEBRATING GOOD TIMES AND GREAT COMPANY

Andrew Charlebois is set to release his brand-new single “Oasis” on May 15, 2026, available on all major streaming platforms and country radio.

Packed with energy, nostalgia, and undeniable charm, “Oasis” is a feel-good country anthem that captures the spirit of Saturday nights under neon lights. With its boot-stompin’ rhythm, singalong chorus, and unmistakable 90s country influence, the track brings listeners straight to the dance floor of their favorite local bar — where the beer is cold, the music is loud, and everyone feels like family.

Inspired by the kind of places where memories are made and stories are shared, “Oasis” paints a vivid picture of dusty boots hitting the floor, cover bands playing the classics, and a crowd of familiar faces raising their glasses together. It’s a tribute to blue-collar roots, small-town traditions, and the simple joy of letting loose after a long week.

With lyrics like “Oh we’re gonna pop a top again / turning it loose, and scootin’ our boots” and “the bartender knows us all by name,” the song taps into a universal feeling of belonging — the kind you only find in a place that feels like home.

“Oasis” is more than just a song — it’s a celebration of the working-class spirit, lifelong friendships, and the timeless power of country music to bring people together.

Fans of classic 90s country and modern country party anthems alike will find themselves right at home at the Oasis.
